Garrard County Tobacco Crop.

Garrard county's tobacco crop for 1913 was close to the five million mark. The acreage, had the conditions been favorable would have made the crop far beyond that, but the drought cut it short. It is thought that the average price realized was about 12 cents, lowever this is hard to arrive at, as the crop was marketed at so many different places. The acreage this year will exceed that of last, and if conditions prove favorable, it is thought tured article is both cheaper and of that there will be at least seven million pounds raised in the county this year.

All Honor To Them.

Lancaster colored men are natural fire fighters. It was in a great measure due to their noble efforts that the Presbyterian church on last Sunday morning was not a complete sacrifice to the flames. Side by side with the white men, fighting heroically, tirelessly, covered with ice and water, never quitting until the last spark was exinguished, they fought as if their own property was at stake. Following out o the minutest detail the orders of those in authority, and in an intelligent and effective manner, they rendered every assistance in their power, and in a manner which would have done credit to a regular organized fire department.

Tobacco Warehouse Closes For Season.

The Lancaster Tobacco Warehouse prized and shipped their last hogshead of our Lancaster boys. Tuesday and Jake Grau left for Louisville where he will doubtless be assigned to some other point where the services of a first class man such as he undoubtedly is, is in demand for the next few months.

This firm, Chas. Speith & Co., has nere for the handling of the 1914 crop.

Fire Sunday Morning Damages Presbyterian Church.

Fire Sunday morning damaged the Presbyterian church to the extent of several hundred dollars, and it looked for some time as if the handsome edifice was doomed to utter destruction, but willing hands finally succeeded in subduing the flames with comparatively small loss. The fire broke out just about the hour for morning services, just after the closing of the Sunday School exercises. Smoke was discovered coming from the basement, and upon investigation a brisk blaze was discovered in the furnace room, evidently originating there among a lot of trash which had collected. The was enveloped in smoke, and it appeared to outsiders that the structure was doomed. However a line of hose was taken through the smoke and flames and through herculean efforts upon the The Kentucky Legislature will ad- the part of the fire fighters, the flames

To The Tobacco Growers of Garrard and adjoining Counties:

The Madison House has just closed another successful week selling nearly 350,000 lbs., with prices from 2c to 30c. Good tobacco being scarce, but when shown demands attention and excellent prices, while the low grades have never been higher than at present. We want to ask those who have tobacco left that you get it to market just as soon as you can, while prices are good. Whilewe expect a steady to strong market throughout, it is best ro sell while you know the market is good. During the last week some of the best averages were as follows: W. C. Ross sold 1125 lbs. at average of $18.08, one basket bringing $30; Tudor & Moberly sold 3805 lbs., average of $15.99; Minter & Chamberlain sold 8890 lbs at average of $14.90, over two-thirds of this crop averaged $17. Tips frozen and damaged often keep the general average low, even for an excellent crop. Price Williams soid 895 lbs., averaged $16.50; Haden Bros. sold 1005 lbs., averaged $17.95; Ross'& VanArsdale sold 2770 lbs for $443.50.

You will remember that our market is stronger now and has been thronghout this year, than it has ever been with us, quality of tobacco considered. And we know that our buyers expect to keep this market right up to the best in the country till we close,

Market your tobacco at once, and continue to sell with the house that gets you the top notch prices-THE MADISON HOUSE. Thanking you, we are,

Very truly yours,

The Madison Tobacco Warehouse Company.

Lesson X. - First Quarter, For March 8, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES. 1

Text of the Lesson, Luke xii, 35-48. Memory Verses, 47, 48-Golden Text, Luke xii, 37-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The secret of deliverance from the snares of this present evil age is the attitude of expecting the return of the Lord Jesus, according to the teaching of the episties, "waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;" "serving the Living and True God and wait-Ing for His Sou from heaven;" "looking for that blessed hope, the giorious appearing of the great God, even our Saviour Jesus Christ" (I Cor. i, 7;

I Thess. i, 9, 10; Tit, ii, 13). Iu the gospels, as in the Old Testament, the coming of Christ is generally, if not always, His coming in glory to set up His kingdom; His coming in vengeance upon ilis euemies and with redemption for israel, as in Deut. ixlii, 1; Matt. xxiv, 30; xxv, 31. His coming for His church, previous to His coming in glory to judge the natlous was specially revealed to Paul. as we saw in our last lesson.

The reference to the return from the wedding in verse 36 makes us think of the order of events in Rev. xix, where the coming in glory with His saiuts follows the marriage of the Lamh; aiso iu Matt. xxv. 1, in hoth the Syriac and Vuigate verslous, the reading is that the teu virgins went forth to meet "the bridegroom and the hride," so that the virgins cannot represent the cburch nor cau the "ali natious" of Matt. xxv, 32, include the church. The church must be seen with Him as the Bridegroom and with Him when He shall come in IIIs giory (Matt. xxv, 1. 31; Coi. iii, 4). The coming of Christ as the Son of Man is IIIs coming with His saints to begin His reign of righteousness and peace on earth (Matt. xxvi, 64; Dan vli, 13, 14; Isa. xxxii.

Having considered the interpretation, we must not lose the application to our own hearts as set forth in such words in our lesson as joins girded lights burning, watching, ready, doing (35, 37, 40, 42, 43). The ioins girded takes us back to Ex. xii, 11, and the night of the first passover and on to Eph. vi, 14; I Pet. i, 13; "ioins girt about with truth;" "gird up the loins of your mind, he soher and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ."

Watching reminds us of the thrice repeated "watch" of Mark xiii, 33, 35, 37; the reproof in Gethsemane: "Couldest not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray lest ye enter into temptation" (Mark xiv, 37, 38); the praying and watching of Eph. vi, 18; Coi. iv, 2; the "Watch ye; stand fast in the falth" of I Cor. xvi, 13, and the watching to see what He will say (Hab. ii, 1). The word "ready" reminds us that on His part "ail things are now ready," but there is a fuilness of "saivation ready to be revealed in the last time" (Luke xiv, 17; I Pet. i, 5).

Believers should always be ready to preach the gospel, ready to every good work, ready to be absent from the hody or to be caught up to meet the Lord in the air (Rom. i, 15; Tlt. ili, 1: Acts xxi, 13; Rev. xix, 7; I Thess. iv. 16-18). As to "doing" (verse 43), while there can be no doing on our part to obtaiu salvation (Rom. iv, 5; Eph. ii. 8, 9), we are saved in order to good works which God has prepared for us to waik in, works which are good and profitable unto men when they are God working in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure (Eph. ii, 10; Tit. iii, 8; Phil. ii, 13).

The coming of Christ will not be to His waiting ones as a thief, for we are ty the type he has set out to raise. not in darkness, but children of light and of the day (I Thess. v, 4, 5). We are stewards of the manifold grace of God and of the mysteries of God, and the one thing required of a steward is faithfulness (I Cor. iv, 1, 2; I Pet. iv, 10). Aii who handle the word of God must be careful to give meat in due season, not only milk for babes, but weat as people are side to bear it (I Cor. ili, 1-3; Heb. v. 12-14; John xvi, 12). We are stewards in reference to all with which our Lord bas intrusted us. whether talents or wealth or the gospel, and we must give an account of our stewardship. Every one of us shall give account of himself to God Rom, xiv, 12). This will be at the judgment seat of Christ, where only saved ones shall be to be tried for their service since they became believ ers. We need for all our service such words as these: "That God in all thlugs may be glorified through Jesus | fresh bedding. Christ." Not as pleasing usen, but God, who trieth our hearts" (1 fet, ly, 11: i Thess, li, 4; 11 Tim ii, 15)

As Jeseph shared the throne with Pharaoh, so we are to share the rule with Christ in ilis kingdom, but wbether over few or many cities will depend upon our faithfulness as stewards now (flev. iii, 21; v. 10; Luke xix, 17, 19), Joseph was ruler over all Egypt: Cirist shali rule over aii the world (i's. Ixxii, 11).

There are those called servants who are only outwardly servants, like the Pharisees. Such shall find their place with the unbelievers. However they may profess to have known Christ, He wili say to them: "i never knew you. Depart from Me ye that work iniquity" (Matt. vii, 21-23). That there will be different degrees of punishment seems evident from erses 47, 48, SWINE WISDOM.

After a pig weighs seventy-five pounds he should gain over a pound of flesh u day.

A cement trough for the hog iot is one of the greatest little improvements about the farm. It is aiways a good plan to feed pigs in a separate pen. A dry pen aud a dry bed are esseutiai to thrift in pigs. Statistics show that the manure from each pig is worth $12 a year. You see it will pay to save this manure.

Don't keep the breeding sows or the growing pigs on a plank floor all winter. Give them a yard in which to exercise on the sunny side of the plg house.

Hogs often have sore throat, quinsy, etc., from exposure to drafts and coid.

THE GOOD BIG HORSE.

Size and Weight Count in the Coliar and on the Market.

That "a good big horse is better than a good little one" is an old saying which, though generally true, is open to many exceptions, especially amoug xxxii, 39-43; isa. xxxiv, 1; xxxv, 4; brood marcs. Size and great weight are necessary in draft horses for heavy farm work and on the paved streets of cities. There is also from $50 to $100 difference in the market value of oue weighing from 1,800 to 2,000 pounds and another from 1,500 to 1,600, yet it by no means follows that the dam must be of great size. There are in all the draft breeds big stallions able to give to their offspring from almost any mare much of their own great weight and height, provided always that the mare is of bodily conformation that will enable her safely to bear big colts. i have in mind a balf breed 1,200 pound mare that year after year drops colts which as yearlings are bigger than herself, the sire being a seventeen hand, 2,400 pound

Still, as a rule, it is safest to breed from big mares when hig coits are desired, for horse breeding is a freakish business, and it is by no means unusual to find mares that impress their own individuality on their colts regardless of what horse they are mated with, while others reproduce in their

The English Shire horse is best fitted to the requirements of the farmer who intends first to use both mares and colts on the land and eventually, when at the right age, to sell the latter as city drafters, says J. P. Ross in Farm and Fireside. If cleverness in trotting and smooth looks were leading features ln what is required 1 should probably prefer the Percheron, but since a quick, firm, weil balanced waik and instinctive knowledge of when to throw their weight into the coliar and when to ease up, how to avoid impediments, a ready com-prehension of what is required of them and a prompt carrying it out and an aimost universal good tem-per are what is wanted for their class of work the Shire horse is, I believe, unequaled. The Shire stalflon shown was a prize winner last

These latter are the most valuable because they enable the breeder to maintain with more certain-Next to or even better than the study of any model, the fitness of a mare for breeding is to be seen in the quality of her progeny if she has been bred and if a view of them is obtain-

Aii four of the leading heavy horse breeds have their specially good points.

Sleeping Quarters For Hogs.

There is no season of the year in which such careful attention should be given to cleauliness of the bog's sieeping quarters as during the winter. Oftentimes hogs are allowed to sieep ail winter iong in sheds or other sleeping quarters which are not cleaned out during the whole season. In order to keep hogs thoroughly healthy such sleeping quarters should be cleaned out at least once a week. The sheds and houses should be carefully disinfected after cleaning and supplied with

Sheep in the South. Sheep are close grazers and may be expected to thrive in pastures where other animals would scarcely find enough grazing for a maintenance ration. Berminda grass, lespedeza, bin ciover, resche grass and many other grazing crops may be produced in most sections of the southwest for sheep Silage is relished by sheep in winter. and some grain should be fed with hay

Water For Hogs.

Hogs should always have clean, pure water to drink. They should also have good, clean quarters in which to sleep should have hard floors especially where they are fed; otherwise they eat filth and dirt which often is the cause of sickness.

Mrs. Sallie Rout Fox died at her nome near Marksbury at 7 o'clock last Friday evening, February 27th, and her death removes one of Garrard county's most lovable characters and highly respected were a live of the county of the c respected women. Born in Garrard on the 22nd day of February 1857, she has the 22nd day of February 1857, she has spent her days near the spot upon which she was born. She was descended from two of the best old families in the northwestern part of the county. her father the late Robert L. Rout, was one of the leading farmers of that section of the county, while her mother, Zerelda West Rout, was a sister of the late John K. West, who was one of the leading educators of the county in his day, and served as superintendent of schools in the county during his life

Mrs. Fox has been under the hand of affliction for the last 18 months, but she bore her burden with that forbearance and fortitude which was one of the leading characteristics of her life, not even those immediately around her, or her most intimate friends knowing of her bodily anguish. Early in life Mrs. Fox united with the Methodist church, Fox united with the Methodist church, was maintained throughout her life, though she believed in and practised fellowship with christians of all denominations. Funeral services were conducted at the cemetery on last Sunday, Rev. Mahan of the "Fork" and Rev. Garrison of the Christian church of Danville officiating, after which her remains were placed at rest in the Danville cemetery. A fltting tribute of the love and esteem in which she was held was the fact that notwithstanding the extreme inclemency of the weather, a great concourse of her friends and relatives. those who new and loved her, followed the remains to their last resting place.

Following in the Master's footsteps, and accepting literally His words "suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not", she was extremely fond of children, and never a but that it came for a share of her notice and solicitude. Charitable to a fault, yet not a believer in blazoning her good deeds to the world, she performed many noble acts of charity without any show or ostentation, the greatest of her many good deeds probably never becoming known to the world. Mrs. Fox had one sister, Mrs. Alice Rout Scott and one brother, Millard F. Rout, both of whom, together with her parents, have preceded her to the Great Beyond. The last of her family, she lived with and for her son, leading a busy, thoughtful and useful life, doing unselfishly such things as came to her hand to make this life a little more pleasant, this world a little brighter for those around her, now that her work is ended and she has gone to her eternal rest, where there shall be no more suffering, she will surely receive at His hand a full and just measure of reward for her life of self sacrifice. HUGE INVITATION

A Conference of Farmers and Business Men Early This Spring .

A MEETING FOR THE SOUTH

A Great Opportunity For a Short-cut Method of Seeing What is Best in Rural Co-operation in the United States-A Real Getting Together.

Almost everyone who has head the magaziues and newspapers in the last or so has wished to travel to many points and learn first-hand what the ieaders in co-operation are dolng. Of course, this has been an impossibility and even if one could make it possible, there would he no time left for constructive work at home. To a certain extent the "County Life Conference" in Lonisville, April 7, 8, 9, 10, wiil make this a possibility without extensive traveling.

Leaders in co-operative movements from many parts of the South and from innumerable Northern States, have been engaged to tell just what they have accomplished and how it was accomplished. They are to tell their "ups" as well as their "downs," in the cause of co-operation. They will also be on hand to show exactly how the work which has been a success at home can he transplanted to other neighborhoods. They will bring with them not only the story, but also all of the material that is used in their perfected organization to-day that it may run smoothly.

Enough enthusiasm is sure to be developed to make orga nizations among those present a certainty. This will be done by these men in the most detailed way possible. The leaders who come to the Conference should he able to take the good word home in such shape that it can be redeveloped and take root.

If you should wish to hetter your own condition, or the condition of your state, or the condtiion of the whole South, it would be well worth your time and money to come to Louisville at this time.

Even if you are not at all anxious to hear any one of the speakers or see any of the demonstrations, still it would be a delight to be in a crowd of people who are enthusiastic enough and devoted enough to come and ruh elbows with other leaders. After all, there is nothing much better in life than the glow which comes to all of ns-when we come in contact with "live wires" from scattered places over the whole country.

If you are a leader or feel that you might be a leader or hope to he a leader, make your plans at once and get the dust off your grip sack that you may be ready to he with the splendid bunch that will talk things over

The demonstrations that wili he used in Louisville in the huge Armory, April 7, 8, 9, 10, are sure to attract the attention of the farmers, their friends and neighbors who come to the Conference. A short list of some of these various demonstrations will prohably give some idea of the wide scope of this meeting. Men who understand the husiness will develop real organizations for the handling (1) Poultry and Eggs; (2) Vegetables and Small Frults; (3) Farm Products; (4) Dalry Products; (5) Live Stock; (6) Purchase of Farm Requirements, and (7) Co-operative Credit. In these organizations that will he developed, an effort will he made to show exactly how the testing, grading, standardizing and packing of all the various products is done.
